

Tunturi exercise bike with computer - Mini Bike (14TUSFU273)

This foldable mini bike from Tunturi is simple, practical, inexpensive and also very space-saving. It is ideal for short fitness training sessions in between and can then be easily folded up again and stored in the cupboard.

CHF 69.00

The foldable mini bike can be used for various fitness exercises with the legs as well as the arms. The resistance is regulated using the button in the center.

The computer display allows you to keep an eye on your training. You can check your performance on the computer by viewing the number of revolutions, energy consumption in calories, cadence and time measurement.

- Gentle training for arms and legs
- Supports muscle maintenance
- Can keep the circulation stable
- The mini bike can be used for leg and arm training and can be easily stored in the cupboard afterwards
- Foldable
- Depending on your fitness level, the resistance can be increased or decreased using the adjustment screw
- incl. training computer with indication of number of revolutions, energy consumption in calories, cadence and time measurement
- Machine dimensions: L50 x W42 x H28cm