

Tunturi massage gun (14TUSYO059)

The Tunturi massage gun is an excellent tool for warming up and activating the muscles before a workout. It can also be used after training to reduce pain and tension in the body. It has been proven that massages stimulate blood circulation and promote muscle recovery. Not only can massage relieve muscle pain and tension, but regular massage of the muscles also has a positive effect on stress levels. The massage gun can be used either by a professional therapist or for self-massage.

The Tunturi massage gun is supplied with four different massage heads consisting of a fork, ball, plate or ball-shaped attachment. These differently shaped massage attachments enable individual massages. The complete set of massage guns (gun and massage heads) can be stored in the carrying case. This is included in the scope of delivery.

The massage gun can be set to 20 different speeds and has 3 pre-installed massage programs. These offer a massage pressure of between 15 and 20 kg. The pressure can be individually adjusted by pressing the gun harder or harder on the muscles, depending on your personal needs.

Thanks to modern production techniques and innovative thinking, an exceptionally quiet massage gun has been developed. The massage gun is equipped with an LED display. Thanks to the rechargeable lithium-ion battery, the massage gun can be used for up to 5 hours on a single charge.
