Innovative

REi combines a foot reflexology massage with gentle calf compression and pleasant heat. The cover turns out to be another wireless massage unit that relieves tension in the back and lumbar region or on the thighs. The light gray fabric cover of the compact all-rounder is modernly discreet and suitable for any interior.

Stylish

At first glance, probably no one would suspect a sophisticated massager behind this compact, modern furniture, but a seat or comfortable shelf for tired legs. The light gray fabric cover and wood-look feet fit perfectly into the living environment. The noble, minimalist implementation of the multifunctional device is simply unique.

Calves and feet

Let yourself be pampered by our massage variety and choose between one of the three automatic programs or a manual setting. Adjust the intensity and type of massage to your individual needs and decide for yourself whether the heat function should be added. For a comfortable position, the inclination of the stool can be adjusted by folding a metal bracket out of the base. This allows you to sit back comfortably and relax. For maximum hygiene, the interior fabric can be zipped off and washed. And thanks to the recessed grips on both sides, REi can be easily and conveniently placed anywhere.

Shoulder, neck and lumbar

REi's cordless cover comes with a rechargeable battery, which means it can be used on a wide variety of body areas at any time. Whether it's the shoulder, neck or lumbar area or the thighs, the four integrated massage heads will selectively relieve your tension and ease your pain. A timer ends the pleasure after a maximum of 15 minutes.

Massage techniques

With the experience of 66 years of massage technology, we have succeeded in combining Japanese Shiatsu and Gua Sha foot reflexology with stimulating calf compression under soothing heat. The special three-part massage heads knead and roll the sole of the foot along its entire length from the toes to the heel bone. With additional vibration, hard-to-reach areas and the Achilles tendon are also massaged.
