Compared to conventional shakes, the handy drinking ampoules have the advantage that they are metabolized more quickly due to their chemical structure and provide the body with the micropeptides and amino acids needed for muscle building immediately. Peptides from whey protein hydrolysate as used in Amino 12500, are utilized by the body faster and better than intact proteins or free amino acids and thus help to sustainable muscle building. Arginine serves the early regeneration and serves as a substrate of nitrogen formation, Ornithine plays an essential role in the degradation of ammonia, an end product of protein metabolism.

Advantages:

- Maximum dosage of 12500 mg amino acids per 25 ml drinking ampoule with, among others.
- 1100 mg BCAA
- 2000 mg L-ornithine
- 2000 mg L-arginine
- Enriched with vitamins B6 and pantothenic acid
- Practical and handy
