The ELASKO technique is a dynamic stretching technique. The body is not only stretched, but we strengthen it and at the same time build muscle tone by using the energy from the body. The strength and inner power combined with opening the joints, the whole body and the mind.

NOHrD Elasko takes the training to another dimension. The different heights of the bars and the loops on the sides allow you to go into innovative positions while stretching. NOHrD Elasko is suitable for any fitness and stretching level. In addition, NOHrD Elasko provides a very comfortable mat for support while stretching and it provides a sense of security in your own area.

With NOHrD Elasko you will learn how to stretch properly and improve your posture. In addition, the following areas are covered and trained:

- Cardiovascular system
- Balance and equilibrium
- Muscle tone
- Relaxation and release
- Abdominal muscle training
- Posture and precision

Loops

Innovative loops for specific exercises down to the deep muscles.

Rungs
