

Spottle glass bottle with silicone sleeve and stainless steel lid, 1000ml, black

Sustainability meets design - a reusable glass water bottle is the perfect alternative to do without PET bottles in the future and thus do something good for the environment and the body! The perfectly fitting protective cover made of silicone gives the glass water bottle a unique look and additionally protects the glass bottle from breaking. The non-slip protective cover made of silicone ensures a comfortable and secure grip of the drinking bottles made of glass even with wet or sweaty hands during sports. First-class food grade silicone is used for the silicone sleeve, which creates a particularly high-quality and secure feeling when holding the glass bottle. The protective sleeves fit perfectly to the glass bottles, but can also be easily removed from the glass drinking bottle at will. The elastic protective cover ideally protects the glass bottle from wear and shocks and the hands from heat during hot drinks. Cold drinks thereby also remain pleasantly cool a little longer.
