

Bar pad Pro

The bar pad for professional use - the ideal neck protection when training with barbells.

CHF 58.00

The professional shoulder protection rollers are particularly helpful when training with the barbell. These rollers have a slot that makes it easy to press them onto the bar. The rollers are opened slightly at one point by about two centimetres and then pressed onto the bar with the palm of the hand. The rollers close under their own tension.

In addition to high quality, particular emphasis is placed on hygiene. The rollers are bactericidal and fungicidal, i.e. the proliferation of bacteria and fungi is effectively prevented. All rolls are saliva and perspiration resistant in accordance with DIN 53160.

The standard color is black. Leather-grain surface finish. The diameter of the hole is 31 mm.
