

Body Solid Club Line Abduction (STH1100)

You can expect only the best from this machine. Pop pin cam adjustment allows users to select start position and range of motion. Body Solid Club Line Abduction Machine features four sealed ball bearing pillow block systems for smooth, comfortable inner thigh and hip concentration. Provides pinpoint concentration of the outer thighs with added emphasis on the hips and glutes. Oversized DuraFirm™ padding, biomechanically accurate foot supports and an ergonomically correct bent knee design make your workout safe, comfortable and more effective. The angled seat eliminates stress on the lower back, while the non-slip hand grips provide stability. The STH1100 can only be used for inner or outer thighs at the same time, to use both you must purchase 2 machines.
